Reviews

Cosy, comfortable and homely (review added by Property Owner)

"Lovely clean and cosy cottage with more than enough room for two. Lovely wood burner for chilly evenings. Ideal location for visiting the beautiful surrounding villages and towns.

Penny was very welcoming and the home made jam was lovely and very much appreciated.

Owner's Response:

How lovely of you to say so Thank you. I'm really pleased that you enjoyed your stay and I do hope you come back again."

A Rural Peaceful Haven (review added by Property Owner)

"This was our first stay at the Little Bothy but it definitely won't be our last! Already booked for a visit in September, it was beautifully renovated and cosy with the wood burner, the welcome hamper left by Penny was full of local produce. comfy bed with crisp linen and a nice ensuite shower/wc. The garden is very private and our two dogs loved it too. So nice to find somewhere that allows well behaved dogs! The little Bothy is ideally situated as a base to explore the local towns of Tenbury Wells, Ludlow and Leominster. A true country cottage experience.

Owner's Response:

I'm so glad you enjoyed it Heather. I am looking forward to your return visit I. September when I will actually get to meet you I am told your dogs were lovely" Heather, Stayed Feb 2015

The Little Bothy & Tenbury Wells (review added by Property Owner)

"The little Bothy is a separate build in the property boundary of the Owner. Suitably priced for what you get. Penny the Owner, is a lovely woman who makes you feel at home and is there if you need to ask any questions. It is just outside of Tenbury Wells, a small market town with its fair share of cafes and Pubs. The best pub being the Rose & Crown, about a 10 minute walk from Little Bothy. Although it is overshadowed by a factory, please don't let that put you off, you must go in kid you like your food and your real ale. A haven for Dog walkers too

Owner's Response:

Thank you. What a lovely review. Though I feel I should point out it's the pub overshadowed by the factory NOT the Little Bothy. I'm pleased you enjoyed your stay and hope you return to enjoy it all again. Spot on re food and real ale at the Rosie by the way"

About Little Bothy at Lyme Cottage

Little Bothy nestles in the beautiful gardens of Lyme Cottage where the owner lives. Originally built in 1867 to house a District Nurse in the village, both Lyme Cottage and the Little Bothy have been sympathetically restored, retaining many of the original cottage features including the fantastic internal oak doors and tiled floors. A fabulous oak conservatory was added to the Little Bothy in 2012 which transformed it into the beautiful self-contained holiday cottage for two that it is today. Little Bothy sits in the old part of Burford village, within walking distance of the historic Burford St Mary's Church and Burford House Gardens with its organic restaurant, interiors shop, garden centre and clematis gardens. Tenbury Wells - just a flat half a mile walk away - provides a host of individual shops, local food retailers and a plethora of eating-places along with riverside walks and a good swimming pool if you've over indulged a little! Located on the borders of Shropshire, Herefordshire and Worcestershire, Little Bothy is an excellent base for exploring all three counties. For more history, antiques, shopping and eating, Ludlow and Leominster are both within 15 minute drive and National Trust properties, Croft Castle and Berrington Hall are also within easy reach. Of course you can also enjoy the peace and tranquillity of the garden and orchard of Lyme Cottage itself! While away the hours picnicking in the sunshine, reading or just enjoying the views. The large garden is fully enclosed and there's plenty of space for dogs to run around too. Little Bothy is centrally heated, with a log burner in the living area. Fully furnished in a mix of old and new, with luxurious linens, a television and free WIFI for guests. There is a separate shared laundry room with automatic washing machine and tumble dryer. All heating, hot water and linens are included and variable changeover dates are available. Little Bothy makes a cosy hideaway whatever the weather with a lovely basket of local goodies waiting to welcome you!
